Tramway - Round Valley

A husband and wife visiting from out of state, left the Upper Tram for a day hike. The two became separated. The women had no map, and despite the husbands efforts he could not locate his wife. RMRU was called out at 10:00pm. An all night search revealed nothing. At first light, the women found a trail and began walking. She was found in good condition at about 7:30am.
