I received a call from Gwenda at 06:30am that she and I were requested to assist on a search for a missing motorcyclist in the Lake Matthews area. From there we would assess whether we should call out the rest of the team. When we arrived on scene they wanted us to run Mission Manager which is a mission tracking system that we are both familiar with. We alerted the team that there may be a search but were waiting for the ROVE (Riverside Off-Road Vehicle Enforcement) team. They would be the first to go into the field. While were setting up the mission in the command center the missing person walked out to a house and asked for help. We were released and headed back home at 08:30am.
