Men from Sierra Madre, China Lake and RMRU participated in the search. The ranger was found dead, with death caused by falling from technical terrain.

Search: 29 September. The Riverside County Sheriff's Department requested help in locating a possible suicide victim in the Corona area. Part of the team arrived at the scene before noon. The search was started in the Prado Dam area. Footprints of a size like the victims were located. The dog was fired but with no success. The rest of the team was called out at 1700 and searched the wooded area near the scout camp most of the night. Nothing was found and at this time the victim is still listed as missing.
